

ORPHEUS 2025 Conference - "Adapting Academia: Navigating PhD Programs Amidst World Crises and Changes" 10th -12th April 2025

The conference will bring together representatives from over 130 universities across Europe and beyond, covering key topics in doctoral education, including:

- Adaptation to global crises,
- Research ethics and quality assurance,
- Challenges and opportunities of generative artificial intelligence,
- Remote mentoring and international collaboration.

The event will feature distinguished speakers from the academic and scientific community, including Dr. Janet Carton (University College Dublin), Prof. Robert Harris (Karolinska Institutet), and Prof. Maroje Sorić (University of Zagreb).

Due to the limited number of seats, we strongly recommend early registration (you can register via this link).

You can find more information about the conference at this link.

We look forward to welcoming you!